Why Futsal?

- Develops great foot skills with pin-point passing,
- Demands quick reflexes and fast thinking,
- Promotes more touches on the ball due to fewer players,
- Simulates outdoor soccer on a small scale,
- Superior to walled soccer in terms of developing skills and technique. In walled soccer, players regularly "whack" the ball (and sometimes bodies) against the walls, promoting improper technique and often rewarding errant play. In Futsal, players are constantly reminded to play the same quality control game required for success in the outdoor game.
- Emphasizes control under pressure, versus kick and chase.
